School Computers
Dear Scarby,
How do we log in to school computers?
– Uchiha Sasuke, 1st year

Dear Uchiha Sasuke,
The process is actually quite interesting for such a menial task! Allow me to carefully explain the steps. First, press the Ctrl, Alt, and Del buttons on the keyboard at the same time. This should bring up the login section on the screen. There, just enter yourUTORid in the Username section and yourUTORid password, which is the same as your Quercus/Acorn password, in the Password section and press Enter. If all goes well, you should automatically log in and have access to the computer! Just a reminder, you can also use the same username and password to log into UofT WIFI.

Yours truly,
SHHH

Get Creative!
Did you know the UTSC Library Makerspace has a button maker and a sewing machine? You can bring in your artwork and make your own buttons for only $0.25 each!

Or you could use the sewing machine and some of its basic supplies and try out some simple patterns to get started, like a zippered clutch!

Ask Scarby
Scarby H. Hedgehog, SHHH
Issue 12, November 2019

Hello everyone! I hope your midterms went well.

In this issue I answer some questions about how things work in the library. Read on to learn about requesting library books, how to log on to school computers and where to return library books.
Drop box

Dear Scarby,
Where’s the drop box?
– Wareeshan, 0.3

Dear Wareeshan,
The drop box you are looking is actually much closer than you think. Believe it or not the box where you submitted this question and the place to find issues of Ask Scarby are right on top of the drop box.

If you still aren’t sure where it is, I can give you some more specific instructions. When you enter the library it will be to your right. If you are in a hurry and don’t want to come into the library there is also one just outside the library doors. You can even use this one when the library is closed!

Yours truly, SHHH

Checked out items

Dear Scarby,
I got an email that says I have a book that’s due. It’s a book I requested from another U of T library, but I actually never checked it out. How can they say it’s due?
– Jazz, 3rd year

Dear Jazz,
Actually, when you request a book from another U of T library, that library checks it out to you when they send it off to UTSC. Usually it arrives here a couple of days later and that’s when you receive an email saying that you can come pick it up. But since the other library already checked the books out to you when they sent the books, it means they’re already checked out to you – even if you don’t come and pick them up!

Another thing to remember about books that you request from another library is that, since the books are checked out when they’re sent off, the number of days that you can keep the books includes the days that they sit here at the UTSC library and wait for you. So don’t wait too long to pick up requested books! If you change your mind about wanting them, just tell the library staff and they’ll send them back.

Yours truly, SHHH

On Scarby’s Shelf

For those of you who would like to take a break from reading and play some video games instead I’d recommend Super Smash Bros. Ultimate which is available in the UTSC library.

Thumbs Up

Going to the Mindfulness Space when you feel stressed out.

Thumbs Down

Studying for hours without taking a break.
